MINE, MILL AND RAILROAD.

Says Saward: "It does seem strange that where a certain line of business is found to be in so few hands as the an-thracite trade that there is not more of that feeling of mutual interest in the general result so much to be desired. It is often charged by the press and public that the managers of this trade form a very close combine, and that they do certain things which are not conducive to the public interests. As a matter of fact, they do not live up to reputation in this respect. A few weeks ago there was held a meeting of the presidents of the mining and carrying companies to adopt some means of adjusting matters, as the sales agents did not appear to have the proper control over the tonnage. The parties referred to accepted the sit-uation as it then presented itself and made a move in what was believed the right direction—that of restriction and an adjustment of prices, with an abrogation of the obsolete circular, to the market prices. Three weeks have re lapsed, and now we are informed that this resolution to meet the market conons is not being adhered to as it should be. There can be but one result of such action, and if any concern gets restive it is not likely to be productive of good to the trade."

The statement that the Pardee collieries would on Nov. 1 pass into other hands is still being actively discussed. A Pottsville paper, the editor of which is a brother to F. E. Zerbey, the chief mining engineer of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, contains the following: 'The announcement comes from Hazleton that a sale or lease of the Pardee collieries to the Lehigh Valley Coal company is announced. These an-nouncements are made on good authority, and the movements of the head offi-cials of the Lehigh Valley corporation and those interested for the Messrs. Pardee would indicate that the rumors are authentic. The reports say that the collieries will change hands on the first proximo. Men have been engaged the past week or more in making an inven-tory of the properties. The South Su-garloaf and the Laurel Hill collieries, It is pretty certain, will go out of the possession of their former owners. It is not so certain that the other collieries of the Pardees will be among those of the Pardees will be among those to be sold or leased. These are the Hazleton mine. Hazleton No. 3, Hazleton No. 6 and Cranberry. The deal, it is said, has been brought about through Mr. Howe, of Philadelphia, who has large interests in the other Pardee collieries and who is the other Pardee collieries, and who is favorably disposed to the Lehigh Val-

The Hazleton Standard announces upon which it claims is very good au-thority that "The Jersey Central will receive the output of the Silver Brook collieries for transportation over their road after Dec. 1, or not later than Jan. 1. The Reading and Lehigh Valley Railroad companies at present control the output and have been for some years. It is now claimed by knowing ones that the agreement which bound the Silver Brook Coal company to dispose of the output to these two com-panies expires after Nov. 1, and they will be free then to ship their coal over whatever line they desire. If the story of the expiration of this deal is a full-faced fact, then there is nothing impossible in the Central securing the traffic. From the manner which the Silver Brook Coal company has been furnished cars for the past year it would seem practical and business-like that they would resort to some other method, or in plainer words offer inducements to such a constant carrier as the Central to accept their traffic. The only objec-tion that would seem dangerous to the new plans is that which may be profferred by the Reading, for it was of them these coal lands were leased Should the stated abruption of the coal contract favor the Jersey Central it means a very large gain in percentage for this company, and following so close on the VanWickle achievement will doubtless awaken them to a keen sense of their importance."

St. Louis seems to be the mother city of innovations connected with street car service. Five years ago. under President Harrison's administra-tion, a streeet car letter and parcel delivery system was put into operation, which two years later was extended to an express car service; and now, a ambulance, fitted up in regular ho pital style, with cots, two physician and every other requisite necessary for the performance of sufgical operation and medical treatment, will make st ted trips over the trolley lines of the enterprising western city.

Superintendent Harry Gay, of the Neilson shaft, has a number of work men engaged in slushing culm into the recent cave-in, where the surfactfell into the abandoned workings about water level. A big sluiceway has bee constructed from the top of the cul-bank to the opening of the cave-in ar large quantities of caol dirt are beir washed down it. The cave-in has n extended any since the first fall, and is not believed that there is much dan-ger of any other breasts falling in at present. The object of the company is to fill this abandoned gangway solid with the culm.

Although there is nothing definite pertaining to the project, there are reasons to believe, says the Shamokin Dispatch, that the Mt. Carmel and Natalie railroad will be continued to Elysburg and through the intervening country to Danville. The land between Natalle and Danville has been traversed by Manager Vincent, of the Penn Anthracite Mining company, and Ogden Ostrander, an expert civil engineer of Riverside, with a view of determining what expense might be necessary in continuing the line on from Natalle through the country to Elysburg. The road running to Natalle is private property and it is probable that the owners are interested in opening negotiations with capitalists to extend the road or with capitalists to extend the road on up through the country and secure a market which has thus far been be-

The Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal company may within a month open two large strippings between Honey Brook and Tresckow, on the south pitch of the big vein. The surveyors have almost completed their share of the task. Relative to the alleged coal war General Manager R. C. Luther, of the Read-show a gain of 12.7 per cent. for the week ended Oct. 7, compared with 1893, and Scotch railway receipts a decrease of 14.3 per cent. From July 1 the gain on the English and Irish lines is 7.9 per

There is now in course of erection at the Altoona shops a new passenger locomotive which is expected to cover 100 miles an hour without any trouble. The wheels are larger in diameter than the ordinary engine and will be equipped with ball bearing, like a bicycle. It will also have a steam pressure of but 90 pounds against 80 pounds pressure in the locomotives now used.

New York, Oct. 27.-The local market opened steady except for Lackawanns, which started off with a decline of ½ per cent., selling at 162. Speculation in to 98%, and Delaware and Hudson, 3 to 123%. Of these stocks only 13,000 shares changed hands, but the attack was so flerce that prices at one time dropped a point between sales. For the first time the bears succeeded in bringing out longstocks and now that they have some of the more timid bulls frightened they are making all sorts of wild predictions. Reading was decidedly firmer and closed ¼ higher in the day. Speculation left off barely steady. Net changes show losses of 1½ to 5 per cent. in the anthracite coalers. THE RENT WAS NOT RAISED. A Woman Showed Herself Too Smart for Her Landlord. From the Chicago Tribune. They met in a street car and the oman with a golf cape remarked.

"I see you still have the same house."
"Yes, and at the same rent,' remarked the woman with the ostrich boa.
"But I thought your landlord had decided to raise it?"
"He did but somehow I didn't expect to move, though Tom gave up the house at once. You see, I really can't afford to have any more bric-a-brac smashed in moving wagons. I've lost enough already to stock a department store. you decided not to move? "Not quite, dear. You see, I told the landlord that I was sorry to move, but we really couldn't afford a higher rent, and that I myself would gladly show the house to intending tenants. Then I set every room in order and waited." "Well." "Well."

"Well, I really thought that the first woman that came would take it. I praised the closets and told her what swell neighbors we had and—"

"But I thought you didn't want to-"
"No, dear, but just as she was leaving I casually mentioned the fact that two persons had died of typhoid fever in the next house above and two doors below. She seemed somewhat agitated, and when I called out the landlord's address after her she didn't seem much inter-ested."

"But, Maggie, you know that was—"
"Some time ago? Yes, but I never could remember dates, and the people did die."
"Well, did she--"

"Never went near. The bedrooms were too small for the next people, and the next ones were delighted, but thought the rent rather dear. Then I remarked that immediately after luncheon I intended to run around and en-gage that lovely little house in the next square at a lower rent. They carelessly asked which house, and I noticed that they turned that corner."
"How could you?"
"Well, did she--"

"Well, you know, it was cheaper, and if they had taken our house I should have been obliged to rent that, for it was near enough to have my bric-abrac carried."

"Your landlord told me that Swell-styles intended to take it." "They did; but after Mrs. Swellstyles and I had gone over it I said: 'Your children all look so healthy that I think the house will just suit you, but mine, you know, are rather delicate, and the least hint of sewer gas alarms us.' She turned pale, and I knew at once that not even the parlor mantel would in-duce her to take it."

"And the landlord?" "Oh, he came around that evening and said that as we were such good ten-nants he had decided not to raise the rent. Tom was so surprised. "No wonder!" gasped her friend; "this is our stopping place; come and have a cream soda—I feel faint."

HEALTH HINTS.

Wear flannel during the summer, a thin layer from the neck to the feet. In winter wear the heaviest weight flannel or wool underwear, such as is sold readymade in the shops.

Do not eat bread, potatoes, rice, ple, cake nor anything sweet if you wish to reduce your weight. Do not take more than one bath a day; it may be hot or cold, either is equally good for the complexion. Sage tea is a very useful remedy for falling out of the hair. It does not answer for all purposes, because the causes of the loss of hair are numerous, and to successfully treat any affection the cause must always be removed.

It requires many months of patient treatment before blackheads and pimples will disappear. The treatment should be local and internal. Remove the blackheads by squeezing or with a watch-key, then wash the spots with hot water and castile soap. Keep the body and the skin healthy by a daily sponge or plunge bath of warm water or cold, as may be the more grateful; follow the bath by a brisk rubbing with a coarse towel. Do not allow one day to pass without having the bowels moved. Walk two miles every day.

CHIRONOMY OR PALMISTRY. Points for Persons Interested in the Science of Reading Character. From New York Commercial Advertises The science of chironomy, or reading character by closely inspecting the hand, is a queer as well as a delightful study, taken in any of its branches. It is said that if the palm of the hand is lean or "skinny" and narrow, the owner is a person noted for timidity, feebleness of mind, and as one being wanting in moral and intellectual forces. If ness of mind, and as one being wanting in moral and intellectual forces. If too thick, big and strong, it denotes a low order of intelligence, with a tendency to brutality. A hollow, deep palm always denotes misery, ill-luck, and that the owner has been a failure in life. Fingers round and smooth denote a tendency to act on impulse or intu-tion, rather than by reason, calculation or deduction, and knotty fingers de-note a tendency to order and arrange-ment. As a general rule, persons with short, thick fingers are quicker, more impulsive and act more on the spur of the moment than those with long, slim fingers, especially if the latter have a tendency to turn backward from the paim. If the fingers are very low one day to pass without having the bowels moved. Walk two miles every day.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was used for years as a prescription by a successful physician. It is in all respects the best cough medicine made today, Sold by all druggists on a guarantee of satisfaction.

From the palm. If the fingers are very short and square cut at the ends it signifies cruelty or want of tact. Long, pliable fingers denote love of detail or general luxury. Large hands and ingers usually belong to workers with minute things (such as watchmakers, etc.), while small hands generally belong to persons having colossal works on hand, or who are planning the same.

WE ARE NOT "SOLE AGENTS" for Priestley & Co.'s Black Dress Goods, but we always carry a complete line in stock, and we are always up to dute with their Newest Weaves and Latest Novelties. If a lady contemplates buying a Black Dress there are many reasons why it should be a "Priestley." A few of these reasons:

First—Because all grades of Priestley Goods are manufactured from the very best quality of Silk and Australian Wool.

Second—Because the dyo is always the same unchangeable reliable Black, which never grows rusty or gray with age.

Third—Because the weave is firm, and they never slip or fray.

Fourth—Because they can be easily cleaned, washed in soap and water, if necessary.

Fifth-Because they are all dyed in one standard shade of black, and one style weave can always be matched in shade by an other, and old with the new.

Sixth-Because they are guaranteed by a guarantee which neans something.

Among the best things shown are: Camel's Hair, Cheviots, Cravenette Serge, the Granite Weave, Armours, Silk Warp Henrietta, Metelase, Melrose, Eudora, etc. The last named "Eudora," being the very latest Cloth out. The "Eudora" is a triumph in textile weaving. It is a Silk Warp, and exquisite in its rich softness. Some say "it's only a Henrietta."To those we say, you are mistaken; it's more than a Henrietta. You ask wherein it is better? Well, a Priestley Henrietta did seem as near complete excellence as it is possible to reach, but the Eudora has all its good qualities and several superior ones, making it the most perfect smooth faced fabric in the world. It has extra width, A great advantage, too, in these days of Umbrella Skirts, Full Coats, etc.

It has extra weight. Not so heavy as to make it too warm for a good all-around-year's dress, but just enough heavier than the Henrietta to give it the appearance of having the body of a Ladies' Cloth without its overburdening warmth. It positively will not catch the dust. The dust shedding qualities of Priestley's goods have always been their strong feature, but the Eudora has been experimented upon, until it is an improvement over all and the climax of perfection is reached. The Eudora is young and new, but in a short time all women will find it their "friend in need," for it will always be ready for wear.

Our usual low prices prevail on all Priestley's goods.

Washburn-Crosby Co, wish to assure their many pat-rons that they will this year hold to their usual custom of milling STRICTLY OLD WHEAT until the new crop is fully cured. New wheat is now upon the market, and owing to the excessively dry weather many millers are of the opinion that it is already cured, and in proper condition for milling. Washburn-Crosby Co. will take no risks, and will allow the new wheat fully three months to mature before grinding.

This careful attention to every detail of milling has placed Washburn-Crosby Co.'s flour far above other
